WE NOMINATE

Henry DeWolf Smyth, a Princeton tradition for almost a half-century and one of the eminent physicists of our time, who is one of the three distinguished Americans singled out as recipients of the Atomic Energy Commission Citation for outstanding service in the nation's atomic energy program. The 69-year old Smyth, Joseph Henry Professor of Physics, Emeritus, in Princeton University, will be honored on September 13th for his "contributions to public understanding of atomic energy in the 'Smyth Report'" and for "his achievements in strengthening international cooperation in the peaceful uses of atomic energy."

A consultant to the Manhattan Engineer District, which produced the A-Bomb, Smyth was called upon in 1944 to write his now famous report that, directly or indirectly, gave most Americans their first insights into the atomic age. He began work with the hope that it would take 2 months; actually, "Atomic Energy" took the better part of 15. It was produced under conditions of top-level security and issued only after the most agonizing scrutiny, paragraph by paragraph. Although some 200,000 copies have since been sold, Smyth has not profited in any way. He put up the $2.00 for copyright, relinquished the copyright, and today remains $2.00 out-of-pocket.

For some three decades Smyth, a native of Clinton, N.Y., but a resident of Princeton since age 7, combined teaching, research and scientific administration at Princeton with a succession of governmental posts related to the development of atomic power. Today serving as United States Ambassador to the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna, Smyth has been "tapped" by five Presidents of the United States and in June, 1954, was the sole member of the five-man Atomic Energy Commission to vote in favor of restoring government clearance to the late, star-crossed Robert Oppenheimer, then director of Princeton's Institute for Advanced Study.

In January, 1966, in announcing Smyth's retirement and a one-term leave in view of the increasing demands generated by his current assignment in Vienna, Princeton President Robert F. Goheen commented: "He is such an integral part of the Princeton Community I find it hard to believe that his retirement is almost at hand. It is most fitting that he should be rounding out his years of invaluable service to Princeton and to higher education in a post of front-rank importance to the nation and to the advancement of research programs in science."

Smyth's retirement in June, 1966, 48 years after he had received his Princeton degree with Phi Beta Kappa honors, marked the first time in 61 years that a member of his family had not been an active member of the Princeton University Faculty. His father, the late Charles H. Smyth Jr. retired in 1931 upon completing 29 years as professor of Geology, and his brother, Professor Charles P. Smyth, David B. Jones Professor of Chemistry, Emeritus, retired in 1963 after having served 43 years in the Department of Chemistry. This record of family service to Princeton, unique in the 221-year history of the University, represented a total of 114 years of teaching and research.

For his substantial contributions in shaping this country's nuclear power policies; for insisting that "the ultimate responsibility for our nation's policy rests on its citizens and they can discharge such responsibilities wisely only if they are informed;" for his services as "representative, interpreter and diplomat of science in the affairs of the Free World;" he is our nominee as

CAN I BRING A TRAILER To Princeton? "I never know how my suggestions work out," Mrs. Christine Peakes said last week.
She has been operating an unofficial information and tourist center at the Princeton Chamber of Commerce, 12
Nassau Street, since last December.

The puzzler that was on her mind had come from a member of the RCA Graphics System Division who wanted an elephant for their picnic.

"I remembered the elephant I'd seen at the Shopping Center," Mrs. Peakes related.
"So after I made some calls,
I suggested they call the Hunt Brothers on Route 130 in Florence . . . I'd love to know whether they got that elephant!"

Q & A FILE, Resourceful and imaginative, Mrs. Peakes has a box full of cards and clippings containing a miscellaneous of information about the area.
She has a stockpile of folders and brochures published by such varying interests as the Regional School System, the Historical Society, Orange
Key and the Council of Community Services.

Next to the maps and time tables for the bus and railroad lines are "There'll Always be a Princeton" by George Cook and Edmund S. DeLong, "The University in the Princeton Community" by Robert F. Goheen, and the Chamber's Fact Book.

For a while the TOWN TOP-ICS' feature story on the new superintendent of Schools, Dr.
Philip E. McPherson, was tacked up on display, as are similar clippings of interest to newcomers or tourists. An article on Marquand Park by Mary Marquand Hochschild is tucked away in Mrs. Peakes' ever-ready information box.

Elephants to Ears, "When that phone rings, you just never know what's going to happen next," she says with zest, smiling broadly.

The challenges come from all directions: Can I bring a trailer to Princeton? Where is the nearest trailer park? ("I found one near Monmouth Junction.")

Is there a farm in Princeton where my wife and two children could stay for two weeks?

My son has gone up there to Princeton looking for a job.
What kind of a place is it?

Whatever happened to Planned Parenthood? They're not there any more!

"WHO OPERATES THE CHINESE LAUNDRY?" When the phone rings at the Princeton Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Christine N. Peakes can always expect the unexpected. Story this page.

Where can I get my ears pierced?

Need A Canoe? How can I get rid of some furniture that I don't want?" ("Unfortunately for us, it wasn't office furniture which we need so badly . . . And do you know the Goodwill Industries has moved out of Trenton? We get a lot of calls, too, from people wanting to get rid of old clothing
. . . it's amazing how many of them are from students.")

Adult School to Open

The complete curriculum of the Princeton Adult School, including full details on registration, appears on Pages 38 and 39 of this issue. The school will open Thursday, September 28, and run for ten consecutive Thursday nights with the exception of Thanksgiving.

How many piano tuners are there in town? ("I've heard there are two, but I can't name them.")

Where can I get a marriage license? ("I found out that you have to go to the Borough or Township health department (first!)")

Where can I get a canoe for the day? My son's having a guest. ("You know, you call a canoe 'livery.' That's where they're listed. There's one in Lawrenceville, Titusville and Highland Park!")

Who operates the Chinese Laundry on Witherspoon Street?
("Do YOU know? I made a point of finding out. It's George Mark. I suppose they left their shirts there and wanted to telephone . . .")

Historic Princeton, Mrs.
Peakes is continually listing the Tuesday visiting hours for Morven and adding that the historical old house is closed during July, August and November. "We get a lot of inquiries from people who are related to the Stockton family.
A woman just recently wrote saying that her great grandmother was a Stockton from New Jersey.

"I sent her a brochure on Morven and told her she could arrange an appointment to see it
by dropping a card to Mrs.
Chafey, the governor's secretary. That was about all I could do."

Newcomers and tourists alike write or phone or drop in to the Nassau Street headquarters of the Chamber to inquire about houses of interest and tours. "I recommend the Orange Key tour at the University. People have come back and said they have looked around the campus by themselves before but they are so glad I recommended the tour because they got a lot more out of it."

Over 3,000 copies of the new est Chamber brochure, listing
a walking tour of Princeton, have been distributed since June. Another leaflet, "Foot-loving in Washington's Footsteps," which was sponsored by Princeton Bank and Trust, is out of print. Mrs. Peakes says regretfully, "We wish somebody would sponsor it a gain."

"spect" on the university campus, open all year round. "People are now asking about nursing homes," Mrs. Peakes notes. "The social service department at Princeton Hospital has a list of them."

Mrs. Peakes fields questions about Princeton churches, clubs, museums, realtors, aptitude testing ("They don't do that at ETS as people seem to think"), adult education, and the draft board.

"New residents are interested in civic affairs, particularly the regional school system. The schools have a marvelous brochure. I am so proud to give it out!"

Housing and employment are two major areas of inquiry. Many believe the Chamber is an employment bureau, and Mrs. Peakes gently straightens them out by giving them copies of the newspapers and a list of Chamber members that are employment agencies. People who are going to move in to town are referred to realtors.

"Sometimes visitors have no accommodations when they arrive here, particularly during a busy season. I scurry around and find them something!"

Homework. Inquiries about historic Princeton include children's letters from all over the country. "Did anyone famous live there?" "Have you ever met Einstein?" "Please send me information on the Battle at Princeton during the Civil War and what led up to it, plus pictures." "Imagine, the way they think these days!"

The Chamber is asked to supply pictures of Woodrow Wilson, Einstein, and of their homes and Morven. "I haven't any," Mrs. Peakes says ruefully, although she has tried to copy photos (unsuccessfully), on the office duplicator. "One of the things that I recommend visitors see is the Public Library's model of Nassau Street as it was in 1914. The Nassau Inn was located on Nassau Street then, about where Renwick's is now. People just love that, and they come back and comment on it."

Chamber Projects. Her phone has been busy with calls for the Jaycees' Football Classic ("Where can I get tickets?") and she is preparing for the Chamber's September golf tournament. Behind her are the Chamber assisted Herontown Woods tours, booked by more than 1,300 adults and children since last spring. "We're also getting calls now for the Food Service Training Course sponsored by Princeton University and the Chamber. I refer them to Harold Ostroff at Renwick's." The course, designed to meet the need for trained restaurant workers to fill some 75 to 150 jobs in Princeton, begins September 28.

For all that Mrs. Peakes has learned about Princeton in the 11 years she has lived here since leaving Weston, Mass., she keeps finding something new.

I have a lot of letters of inquiry about Einstein. "I never knew that he was offered the presidency of Israel. I think I've learned more from this job than people have learned from me!"

She plunges into each day's unknown with relish and humor, one day helping the mother of a Princeton bride assemble 25 kits of information about Princeton for out-of-town guests, another day working out tours and suggested restaurants ("Well, first, what kind of food do you like?") for tourists, many of them from foreign countries.

The pace is fast sometimes. At 9:30 one morning last week she answered the phone with her mind preoccupied with half a dozen projects. "Good afternoon!" she said to the caller, "I mean, good morning!"

"You certainly are mixed up!" said the voice on the phone. He went on to inquire about football tickets and ended the call with, "Well, I sure hope you get straightened out. Good night!" "That just made my day!" laughs Mrs. Peakes.

the decision will be announced.

The board met in a two-hour executive session Tuesday night to consider six nights of transcribed testimony which has been taped in a series of public hearings.

The Thanh Corporation is asking either a variance or a special permit, to lease five acres of land in the engineering zone of North Harrison, for a new Princeton post office.

Meetings. Last Thurs. between Valley Road and day's session lasted for six Guyot Avenue, requesting sidewalk and curbs.

and it was the final round in the legal battle that has seen out of Committee's August 21 Thanh lined up against a meeting when a Walnut Lane group of residents of the North Harrison area, and the American Can Co., whose research establishment would be next door to the new post office.

Most of Thursday's hearing was occupied with Stephen Sussna, a planner who lives in Lawrence Township and maintains offices in Trenton. He appeared as the chief witness for John W. Devine, attorney representing a group of residents opposed to the post office.

"It's the neck of the funnel," explained Mr. Woolston, describing the two black section of Walnut south of Valley. He was referring to the school children funneling in on John Witherspoon School from points north, west and east. "Any mechanical separation of the flesh and blood of children from the chrome and steel of cars, contributes to public safety," observed William Cherry, 24 Dempsey Ave.

—This request is a flouting of the requirement that zoning changes be in harmony with a pre-existing master plan," Mr. Sussna charged. "A post office is a grab-bag kind of element, involving trucking, warehouse activities, retail transactions."

Te cited the Township Master Plan's policy of lessening traffic, and exclaimed, "This is the very converse! A post office is not considered light industry or research," he added.

Under cross examination, Mr. Sussna admitted he had not surveyed either the Palmer Square main post office nor the University Place "annex" in any depth, so far as noise and traffic are concerned, but had observed them only.

He also said he was not aware that the Township Planning Board has approved the North Harrison site as a location for a Princeton post office.

PARKING SMOOTH
New Ordinance in Township. "About pot holes, will it be 'till 'em up or else?" asked Henry J. Frank Tuesday night, as Township Committee held public hearing on a new ordinance setting stiffer, smoother and stronger specifications for public parking lots.

The ordinance (it passed, unanimously) is aimed at the Princeton Shopping Center parking lot whose condition, at various times of the year, has prompted outraged Township residents to telephone the Township engineer and Township Committeemen, notably William L. Wilson, and Township Mayor Carl C. Schaefer.

Under the new ordinance, owners of big lots that get a lot of heavy use, will have to conform to specifications worked out by the Asphalt Institute, said engineer Frank Quincy.

New parking lots must comply when they are built; old lots must comply as they are maintained. To Mr. Frank's question, Township attorney Gordon Griffin replied, "If they have been improperly maintained, the answer is 'yes!'"

First, Walnut. Rogers Woolston, 299 Walnut Lane, presented a petition signed by 10 of the 11 property owners on east and west sides of Walnut Lane nue. He said that, in his mind, this meant that curbs as well as walks were required along Walnut.

Mr. Woolston had explained that most of his petition signers wanted curbs, also. Mayor Schafer and Committee said they did not have a clear cut policy about who pays for curbs (the Township pays half of sidewalks and the property owners split up the other half.)

Mr. Cherry reminded Committee that the Traffic Safety Committee and parent teacher groups wanted the Walnut Lane walks. Committee said it would take up the matter in executive session.

Then, Guynt Committee voted unanimously to accept into the street system the stretch of Guynt extending east from Walnut, to Linden Lane. Mr. Frank asked that Guynt which was built by the old Borough School Board, be held as hostage until the Princeton Regional School Board actually note the new alignment of Walnut built.

"I don't see any construction beginning there," he warned, of the Franklin realignment site, just south of the school.

Mr. Griffin told Mr. Frank that withholding acceptance of Guynt wouldn't make any difference. The agreement, Mr. Griffin reminded him, is that the new Franklin Avenue has to be built before the old one can be torn up, and this means that the Township won't be left without a street.

He also suggested that if Guynt isn't accepted now, it may just deteriorate and actually never be accepted, by engineering standards, into the street system.

Mr. Frank, who attends all Committee meetings, is chairman of the Traffic Safety Committee, and has the dedicated citizen's concern with detail. He inspected the new Guynt parking lot fencing before he went to Township Hall Tuesday night, was thanked for his interest. He shrugged.

"Who else is that interested?" he said.

That Community Pool will be open through Sunday for all those who want to enjoy it again before it marks the close of an immensely successful first season.

It may be a hot cool in the pool, but the sun will help. Generally fair weather is forecast, with Saturday showers a possibility. Temperatures a few degrees below normal.

In other business, Committee agreed to discuss two Traffic Safety Committee recommendations: a "no parking" zone on the west side of Alexander next to the Princeton Inn, so that Inn guests can see to drive out the driveway; and a request to the state to make a speed survey along Valley Road, where the "limit" is 50 miles an hour between Walnut and Harrison.

An ordinance was introduced amending the subdivision ordinance to require developers to pay taxes on the subdivision in full when the parcel is approved by the Planning Board. Public hearing on October 2.

Forty tax appeals have been filed with the assessor, said Administrator Joseph R. Nini, and they will be held this Friday before the Mercer County Board of Taxation.

YOUTHS STEAL CAR
Involved in Hit-Run. Two Trenton youths were arrested Monday in a field in Lawrence Township where they had fled following a hit and run accident on the Princeton Pike. Police said they had stolen the car they were driving shortly before in Princeton.

Arrested were Tyrone Silvis, 22, of Trenton, a former Princeton resident, and his 16-year-old brother. Silvis was charged with unlawful use of a motor vehicle and hit and run. Lt. William Hulfish of the Lawrence Township police said that the juvenile had been sent to the Mercer County Detention Center in Trenton to await arraignment.

by a juvenile court. Both, he said, were on parole.

The incident began at 4:30 Monday afternoon when Mrs. Arthur Lithgow of 54 Alexander Street glanced out her window and saw two youths stealing her 1966 yellow sedan parked in the driveway. She called Borough police.

Shortly thereafter, the two ran into the rear of another car on the Princeton Pike near Fackler Road. The driver, Leon Mount of Trenton, stopped and told the youths to wait until the police arrived. Instead, they sped off with Mr. Mount in pursuit.

Near the Morris Hall Home for the Aged at the intersection of Route 206 and the Lawrenceville-Pennington Road, the youths stopped, left the car and fled across a field. Meanwhile, Mr. Mount had been able to attract the attention of Trooper Sigmund Pieszala of the Hopewell Barracks, Trooper Pieszala with the aid of Ptl. Robert Cranston and Ptl. Augustus Simonelli of the Lawrence police apprehended the fleeing youths in the field.

In the collision of the two cars Mrs. Mount, sitting alongside her husband, was thrown forward. She complained of injuries to the right side of her back and nervous system. The right front fender and hood of the Lithgow car were damaged.

The case is still being investigated by Lt. Hulfish and Detective Michael Simonelli of the Lawrence Police.

GIRL STRUCK BY CAR
Receives Cerebral Concussion. A nine-year-old girl who was struck while riding her bicycle on Birch Avenue Monday morning was reported to be in good condition the following day in Princeton Hospital. She was treated for a cerebral concussion.

Bertha Rhodes, 229½ John Street, was struck by the right front fender of a car driven by Karl M. Light, 42, Cherry Valley Road, as she emerged from a driveway at 19 Birch Avenue. She was taken, unconscious, to Princeton Hospital by the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad. Her sister, Wanda, 10, riding on the rear fender of the bike, escaped injury.

Mr. Light told police that he was driving about 20 to 25 miles an hour when he came abreast of a large tree. A child on a bike, he continued, suddenly appeared from behind the tree, entering the road from a driveway. He said that he swerved to the left to avoid hitting her but was unsuccessful.

The accident occurred at 10:40 a.m. The investigating officer, Township Ptl. Frank Boccanfuso, made no charges.

MONTAGUE BROWN: A Democratic write-in candidate for Township Committee.

Topics Of The Town

CANDIDATES NAMED
By Township Democrats. Montague Brown, 388 Terhune Road, will run for Township Committee in November on the Democratic ticket.

Township Democrats, unable to find anybody to run for Committee in time for the August filing deadline, persuaded Mr. Brown to run only a few days ago.

Since the deadline for filing petitions is long since past, Mr. Brown will have to be a write-in candidate in next Tuesday's primary. He is signing up to run against Republican Committeeman Harry J. Volwieder for the two years remaining in the term of David Thompson, who resigned from Committee this summer.

This means that Republican Committeeman William L. Wilson is still unopposed for his third term, unless the Democrats find another willing write-in before next Tuesday.

It doesn't matter, in a primary election, how many Democrats write in Mr. Brown's name unless, of course, another Democrat has a write-in campaign going for him, too.

Mr. Brown is director of the Hospital Research and Educational Trust of New Jersey, with offices on Route 206. He is also a trustee of the Social Welfare Research Foundation of New Jersey and a member of the advisory board of the Occupational Center, Jersey City State College. He has lived in Princeton since 1964.

PRIMARIES TUESDAY

Democrats Have Contest. Three Democrats want to be their party's nominee for the New Jersey State Senate and only two nominations are available.

This three-for-two fight in the Democratic columns of the primary ballot, is the only contest for Princeton voters in next Tuesday's primary election. Local candidates are all running unopposed, except for write-ins that may develop. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

State Senator Sido L. Ridolfi and Freeholder Richard J. Coffey are the party-endorsed candidates for the two seats in the State Senate's sixth district. Assemblyman Charles E. Farrington is the maverick. (See advertisements, pages 12, 31 and 41.)

A loser in the fight to obtain party endorsement, Assemblyman Farrington was relegated to the outside column on the ballot by Joseph Bash, Mercer County Democratic chairman. Assemblyman Farrington took his case to the courts, but a final ruling from the Appellate Division of Superior Court on August 14 stated that Mr. Bash was entitled to the final say. Mr. Farrington did not appeal.

The candidate had protested that his name would be overlooked by voters if he were not in the "endorsed" column, but the judge in announcing the decision, said he thought all candidates would have "a very high visibility at the top of the ballot."

Sample ballots, distributed over the last few days by the county Commissioner of Registration, show all three candidates in fairly high visibility; in fact, Mr. Farrington by virtue of being all alone in his column, shows up even more than the other two.

... And on this Side . . . Republicans who will face the two winning Democrats are Bruce M. Schragger and George Y. Schoch.

Democratic Assemblymen, unopposed, are Francis J. McManimon and Lloyd A. Carver. Republicans are William E. Schluter and John A. Selecky.

For Freeholders, the Republicans have chosen Regina H. Meredith, Peter Fless Jr. and Peter H. Rossi. Democratic candidates will be Frank J. Black, Charles Kovacs and Ann M. Bancroft.

In the Borough of Princeton, unopposed Republican candidates are Henry S. Patterson for mayor; Frederic R. Peterson and Alan W. Carrick for Council, and Christine D. St. John for tax collector.

Democrats in the Borough are Archibald S. Alexander Jr. for mayor; Wilbert Brooks and James E. Andrews for Councilman and Marie B. Coan for tax collector.

For Township candidates, see story above.

THE CAMPAIGN BEGINS: Democratic candidates for mayor of the Borough and for Borough Council made a walking tour on Saturday and greeted a few prospective voters. Here, on Shirley Court, are (left to right) Wilbert Brooks, candidate for Council; Henry Hatcher; Archibald S. Alexander Jr., who is running for mayor and James E. Andrews, the other Council candidate.

CANDIDATE ON TOUR

Alexander Asks Questions. "The housing question is a recurring one, about 75 percent of the people I've talked to said it was their major problem."

The observation was made late Saturday afternoon by Archibald S. Alexander Jr., Democratic candidate for mayor of the Borough, after a three and one half hour "walk" along John Street and Leigh Avenue, Clay Street and Witherspoon, Shirley Court and Quarry Street.

It was not a doorbell ringing excursion in the classic political campaign tradition, but rather a stroll through Princeton's Negro section in the new tradition of John Lindsay, mayor of New York who has been taking similar "walks" in troubled sections of his city. Mr. Alexander talked with about 15-20 people. He was accompanied by the two Democratic candidates for Borough Council, James E. Andrews and Wilbert Brooks, a campaigner and a reporter.

Protest Bent Scale. It was a cool, sunny afternoon (Mr. Alexander's "walk" had been postponed twice because of rain) and the people Mr. Alexander hopes will become his constituents were outdoors washing cars, soaking up sun shine on the porch or just walking in the sun.

Residents of the Clay Street public housing project were especially vocal about housing problems. Their chief concern is that rents, which they regard as high already ("just terrible!" was one comment) climb even higher as soon as a tenant gets a raise in pay.

"As soon as you earn more than a certain amount, you have to move out of the project," explained Mrs. Estelle Johnson, 41 Clay, "and this means you have to move out of Princeton because other available housing is much too expensive. The only thing you can do is try to keep your income down."

"De facto segregation," is the term Mrs. Johnson used to describe what she told Mr. Alexander were "the economic facts of life" that pushed Negro families out of Princeton.

She told the candidate that she had been born in Princeton and lived here most of her life and wanted to stay. She added that, once her children were grown and had moved away from home, her income would be judged too high for her to remain in the project.

"There is no intermediate income housing here," she observed.

objected to the present one-way status of the street and said that Clay either ought to be two way, or designed for parking on two sides. "We can't park to unload groceries," one woman said.

An out-of-towner visiting a Clay Street relative grinned at Mr. Alexander and said, "John Street makes my car fall apart!"

Youth Will Be Heard. Young people and their anxious elders were also out on Saturday afternoon.

"Teen agers need a place to go when we've got free time," said Johnny Madden, 16 Green Street. Johnny, a football player for Princeton High, told Mr. Alexander he hadn't heard whether the proposed new youth center in the old Engineering Building really was going to open or not.

"I like the youth center idea," young Madden said, "but the main thing is what goes on in the center and how they're going to run it."

Miss Mary E. Moore, 28 Quarry, who has been involved with young people in the John Witherspoon area for many years, described for Mr. Alexander her enthusiasm about part-time employment for young people. She was secretary to the summer project that gave 26 John-Witherspoon teenagers jobs at Fort Dix. (Town Topics, August 3).

"The money they earn is important, of course," she told the candidate, "but even more important, jobs keep teenagers occupied and help them understand what it means to hold a job."

She added that she had trouble persuading employers in Princeton to hire teen-agers.

The two Council candidates chatted with people, too. Mr. Brooks is running unopposed as Democratic Committeeman in the Sixth District where Saturday's "walk" was held, as well as for Council.

He greeted old friends and established contact with new ones, and so did Mr. Andrews, who knows many Sixth District faces from his previous campaign for Council in 1962. But essentially, it was Mr. Alexander's tour.

His welcome was somewhat mixed. One elderly voter greeted him cheerfully by saying, "I am a Republican, I have been a Republican all my life. I have always voted Republican and I intend to this year, but it's a pleasure to see you."

"It was a most instructive tour," Mr. Alexander said. "We all learned a great deal and I think maybe we'll do it again."

LANE IS MENTIONED

As Candidate for Governor, former federal judge Arthur S. Lane, who gave up his seat on the bench in July to become general counsel for Johnson & Johnson, has been mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey in 1969.

Mr. Lane, who lives on Pleasant Valley Road near Harbourton, graduated from Princeton University in 1934, and captained the Tigers' undefeated football team in 1933.

A World War II veteran with the Navy, he was an assistant prosecutor before becoming a judge.

Republican leaders have twice attempted to persuade Mr. Lane to enter politics, in 1964 against Harrison Williams for the U.S. Senate and a year later against Governor Richard J. Hughes.

There also is speculation that if Mr. Lane decides to run his Democratic opponent may well be Representative Frank Thompson Jr. Gov. Hughes is barred by law from seeking a third term.

GUIDANCE REORGANIZED

At Princeton High School, George Petrillo, guidance counselor at Princeton High School for the last eight years, is the new chairman of the Guidance Department. He succeeds Thomas S. Seraydarian who resigned to become principal of Haddonfield High School.

Mr. Petrillo has decided to reorganize the assignment of pupils to counselors in order to decrease the student to counselor ratio. Counselors will be assigned on a "vertical" basis rather than as class counselors.

The following assignments will go into effect this fall: Students whose last name begins with A-C are assigned to Don Mannain; D-G are assigned to Don Ringkamp; H-L are assigned to Mrs. Mollie Updike; M-P are assigned to Mrs. Bernice Rydell; Q-S are assigned to Richard Saldon; and T-Z are assigned to Mrs. Thea Bornheimer.

Mrs. Ethel Thomas will act as consultant for college admissions, handling scholarships.

files, college conferences, research publication and follow-up studies.

The re-organization of the department was made possible by the addition of several new counselors to the staff. Mr. Mannain, a graduate of Rider College, taught English in the West Windsor School District for eight years and is currently completing his masters degree program in guidance at Rider College.

Mr. Ringkamp was graduated from Wagner College and did graduate work at Newark State. Mr. Saldon obtained his Masters in Guidance from Seton Hall in 1966. He taught English for nine years at Franklin High School in Somers.

39 COURSES LISTED

By Adult School. Two interesting and informative lecture series, plus courses on typing, personal investment, creative woodworking, folk guitar, fiction and 32 others will be offered by the Princeton Adult School for its fall session.

The term will run for ten Thursdays, beginning September 28, and excluding November 23 (Thanksgiving). Registration can be made by mail (there's a registration blank provided, plus a complete listing of courses on pages 38 and 39) or in person on Thursday, September 21, at the Princeton High School cafeteria.

An open house will be held the same night from 8 to 9:30 for those who would like to meet the Adult School faculty and board members. Teachers will answer questions about courses, books and materials at that time.

The lecture series the first hour will be given over to a study of "The Arts and Cultures of Southeast Asia." Conducted by scholars and students of this region drawn from several universities, the series will give an introduction to the people of Southeast Asia, their architecture, history, music, drama and dance.

There also is speculation that if Mr. Lane decides to run his Democratic opponent may well be Representative Frank Thompson Jr. Gov. Hughes is barred by law from seeking a third term.

Tires Are Stolen

From University Student Gregory McBride's return to Princeton University was marked Sunday by the theft of two of his automobile tires.

Mr. McBride, whose room is in Foulke Hall, told police he was unloading his car between 7:15 and 7:45 Sunday evening on University Place and had laid two snow tires temporarily on the sidewalk. When he returned from his room they were gone. He valued them at $50.

On Friday, Alice McNamee, a clerk at The French Shop, 20 Nassau Street, told police that her wallet containing $62 had been removed from her purse while it was under a counter.

Police said that she was able to give them a good description of two suspects.

CHASKO LENDS HAND
As Car Hits Auction Crowd.
When a runaway car plowed into a crowd of people Saturday at the Englishtown Farmer's and Auction Market, injuring 25, one of the many who attended to those hurt was retired Borough patrolman John Chasko.

An antique dealer since his retirement this summer after 23 years on the Borough force, Mr. Chasko said that he was on his way to pick up some glassware from another dealer when he heard a loud noise and saw a lot of dust flying. "I went over," he said "and heard a lot of hollering and then I saw people lying all around."

"There wasn't much you could do except try to make them comfortable and help the police put them on stretchers and into ambulances," he said. "I helped out a little bit."

One observer said that the Market looked like a battlefield. "Everytime you pushed the crowd back you'd find another body."

Mr. Chasko said that the accident took place near the edge of the Market on one of its thoroughfares shared by cars and milling buyers. Police said that the driver, a Camden woman, apparently lost control after her car backed into a truck. It then shot forward into the crowd.

Rescue squads from nearby towns transported the victims to the Jersey Shore Medical Center in Neptune, 20 miles away. Nine were admitted. Pending a further investigation, State Police have issued no charges against the driver.

The Market is open every Saturday and is located off Route 527 near Englishtown. Mr. Chasko, who has a booth there, said he attends every Saturday.

"It's quite a place, on any given Saturday," he said, "they'll be 600 dealers there and 20,000 people. You can buy anything from a rusty nail to items costing more than $1,000."

THE BEST NUMBER to call for classified advertising is 924-2200.

JOHN CHASKO: After a run-away car, a helping hand.

NEW SEASON BEGINS
At The Catacomb, Princeton's coffeehouse for teenagers, The Catacomb, begins its fall season this Friday and Saturday.

Singer guitarist Barry Peter will be featured on opening night. A 21-year-old senior at Princeton who began playing the guitar four years ago in Europe, he has been writing instrumentals and is booked to make a 45 rpm record this fall. His program will center on the folk music of Patrick Sky, Tom Paxton, Gordon Lightfoot and Steve Gillette.

The Catacomb, located in the basement of Trinity Church, will be open from 9 until 11:30 p.m. every Friday and Saturday. John Bentley is replacing Dave Turner as manager for the season.

HOLE IN ONE SET

For Sunday, Sept. 17. The annual Hole-In-One competition, sponsored by the Borough and Township Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, will be held between 10 and 6 Sunday, September 17, at the Springfield Golf Club on Lower Springfield Road. Rain date will be September 23.

First prize will be a matched set of golf clubs and bag. There will be other prizes as well.

Tickets — two shots per ticket — cost $1 and may be obtained at the golf course. In charge of the event are Patrolmen Frank Boccafuso and Anthony Pinelli.

SEASON OPENS

For Woman's Club. The Hillsborough Woman's Club has set its first meeting of the year for Tuesday. The affair begins at 8:15 in the Hillsborough High School.

The Club's representative to the Citizenship Institute at Douglass College, Karen Polonko, will report on her activities. Also appearing will be a speaker from the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute in Skillman.

This summer, through the Club's "cents-off coupon" campaign conducted by Mrs. Samuel Smith and Mrs. George Reavy, more than $60 has been raised for Deborah Hospital. Members are asked to bring extra coupons — and articles for a rummage sale — to the meeting.

WORKSHOP TO OPEN

For Princeton Painters. Rex Goreleigh, director of the Studio on the Canal, has announced an evening painting workshop for the fall-winter term beginning September 18. Teaching the course will be Trenton artist Vincent Ceglia.

His workshop will consist of painting with acrylics, oil and watercolor, with special emphasis on the particular talents of his students. Other workshops will also be available to interested artists, including instruction in landscape painting, drawing, sculpture and ceramics.

Mr. Ceglia is a teacher in the Art Department at Mercer County Community College. A former art consultant to the New State Civil Service Commission, he is founder and charter member of the Advertising Graphic Arts Club of Trenton.

BUSINESS In Princeton

SHOPPING CENTER SET
For Route 1, Near Trenton. Ground will be broken next month for construction of a Herman Spiegel Furniture store, which will be the nucleus of a shopping center completely devoted to home needs. The complex will cover one-fifth of a mile on Route 1 near Trenton.

The new Spiegel store will be the largest in the shopping center, which will also include shops specializing in carpeting, bath and boudoir accessories, antiques, art, custom work shops and kitchens, designer fabrics, appliances, lighting fixtures, wallpaper and paints. There are presently two other Spiegel stores in Trenton.

Space in each store will be arranged to accommodate the individual requirements of each tenant, with areas ranging from several thousand to tens of thousands of square feet. The Center will have parking for nearly 200 cars.

Spiegel's own free interior decorating facilities will be enlarged to meet the increased needs of the center. Additional decorators and a special decorating salon area will be incorporated into the store. Traditional, contemporary and modern furniture will be set up in open displays and in highly detailed room settings.

THREE PAPERS SOLD
To Princeton Packet. Edward Nash, editor, publisher and president of Nash Newspapers, Inc., has sold The Manville News, The Franklin News Record and the South Somerset News to the Princeton Packet, Inc., publishers of the Packet, Inc., publishers of the Packet, the Central Post and the Wind sor Heights Herald.

The three Nash papers, which cover the southern sector of Somerset County, will keep their offices and production facilities at the present address on Old Campain Road, Hillsborough. No changes are scheduled for the papers' staff, according to Edward P. Burke, vice-president and general manager of the Packet.

Mr. Nash purchased The Manville News in 1946. Almost 11 years ago, he began the Franklin News, subsequently purchasing the Middlebush Record and combining their masthead. One year later he established the South Somerset News.

Bernard Kilgore, board chairman of Dow Jones and its former president, is president of the Packet Corporation, which bought the Princeton Herald in January.

RECORD SALES REPORTED
By General Devices, General Devices has reported record sales and earnings for the first half of 1967. Sales reached $3,735,109, and earnings rose to $151,881, according to the company's semi-annual report.

The figures reflect the company's acquisition of Development Designer's Company of Norristown, Pa., Marietta Metals Products, Pa., and Magic Heat Corporation of Malvern, Pa.

Development Designer's has become the DeDeCo Services Division of GDI and provides engineering and design services to industry. Marietta Metals designs and manufactures heating systems and Magic Heat is responsible for sales.

ENGINEER HONORED

For Television Advances. Alida V. Bedford of 173 Jefferson Road has been awarded the David Sarnoff Gold Medal by the Society of Motion Picture and Television Engineers. Mr. Bedford is a retired Fellow of RCA Laboratories.

Receiving the medal for his contributions to the development of black and white and color television, Mr. Bedford holds over 120 United States patents. He is best known for his work with the principle of "mixed highs."

His concept that the human eye is more sensitive to changes in brightness than to changes in color was a significant advance in the development of color television. Only a fraction of the color information in a scene need be transmitted to create a color picture satisfactory to the eye.

Mr. Bedford retired this June after 42 years with RCA and its predecessor companies.

In 1939 the National Association of Manufacturers presented him with its Modern Pioneer Award for his experiments in television transmission.

HILLIER IS DESIGNER

Of Campos Project. J. Robert Hillier of Princeton has designed the new Fairleigh Dickinson University Student Center, which will get underway with an October ground-breaking on the Florham-Madison campus. Kendall Construction company has undertaken the building.

The two-story building will include a dining hall with a capacity of 600, meeting rooms, a post office, duplicating rooms and quarters for the school newspaper. The steel construction will have a facade of red brick.

ADMISSIONS ON AGENDA

For Chamber Group. The Research and Education Group of the Chamber of Commerce will hear a discussion on college admissions problems at its luncheon Monday at the Peacock Inn. Guest speaker is Robert Biuno, Director of Admissions at Rutgers University.

Mr. Biuno will also discuss the Livingston College project. Those wishing to attend should make a reservation through the Chamber office at 921-7676.

FMC HONORED

For New Product. A new substance developed by FMC Corporation has been chosen from the 100 most significant new technical products of 1967 in a competition sponsored by Industrial Research magazine. The product, known as AVICESTIC microcrystalline stearate, is an effective viscosity control agent in polyesters, paints and inks.

FMC Executive Vice-President W. N. Williams will accept an award at a ceremony later this month in New York. The program will climax "National Industrial Research Week," September 17 through 23.

MAILBOXPraise For Rescue Squad.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Everybody in Princeton knows about the First Aid and Rescue Squad, but until you have whirled down Witherspoon Street in a PFR ambulance, you can have no idea of the full worth of its services.

An emergency call brought my doctor to my home at 9 o'clock on a Monday morning. He ordered an ambulance. Almost at once, two strong stalwart men wheeled a stretcher right into my bedroom, lifted me on it, and in no time at all I was in a bed in Princeton Hospital.

Later, I inquired about staff. I learned that this ambulance and first aid service is manned by dedicated volunteers, some of whom actually sleep overnight at squad headquarters to be on instant call.

The most difficult hours to staff, I was told, are the weekday working hours, when most men of Princeton are at work at their jobs. But the squad maintains an emergency list and has never failed to answer a call.

May you never need to take advantage of the good offices of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad. But if you do, be assured that it's THERE; it works for you, night and day, and it's FREE — all this made possible by the generous hearted volunteer service and support of the people of Princeton.

HIGHER BENEFITS BACKED

By Rep. Thompson. A statement supporting the bill calling for increased social security benefits and a brief outline of their history was issued this week by Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., (D-NJ), this district's representative in the House. Its text follows:

Last week the House voted to increase social security benefits for some 23 million Americans. The bill, which also revised certain features of the existing social security law, has been sent to the Senate for action.

Students of American history will recall controversy which surrounded the birth of social security. As the payroll tax to finance the plan was to take effect January 1, 1937, social security became a major campaign issue in 1936, with the Republican Presidential candidate, Alfred Landon, attacking the plan.

Employers were urged to post in conspicuous places placards bearing messages like: "You're sentenced to a weekly pay reduction all your working life. You'll have to serve the sentence unless you help reverse it November 3". Similar messages were put in employees' pay envelopes in some plants.

President Roosevelt strongly affirmed his support for the social security program and won a stunning victory over Mr. Landon. It is a measure of the success and bipartisan popularity of social security that the House vote to extend the program last week was 414 to 3.

Increase Averages $1.9 Monthly. If passed by the Senate, the House bill will increase benefits to older Americans, to the disabled, and to the survivors of covered workers by approximately 12 1/2%. Thus, the average monthly benefit to a retired man and his wife will be increased from $145 to $164.

The bill increases the special payments to certain individuals age 72 and older, and enlarges the class of citizens who are eligible for these special payments. The bill also increases the amount a person receiving social security payments may earn without forfeiting part of his benefits, thus making possible an increased annual income for the many beneficiaries who are able to work.

This legislation also refines certain parts of the medicare program. Major accomplishments of the medicare program are now apparent. It has made available insured alternatives to hospital care. Thus, patients who require continued medical attention but who do not need constant in-patient care are able to receive the necessary treatment as hospital out-patients, or under a home health care program.

Medicare, in addition to serving the medical needs of millions of Americans, has also afforded to older people the security that comes from knowing a serious illness will not be a major financial burden, and will not require them to seek the aid of their children. The House bill improves and simplifies several aspects of the medicare program, and includes provision for the appointment of a commission to study the feasibility of extending medicare coverage to disabled persons under 65.

The social security program embodies the principle that older and disabled Americans are entitled to the opportunity to live with dignity. Although the House bill is not perfect in every way, it does extend this principle and therefore merits support. I hope the Senate will act quickly to make its promises law.

Children will be introduced to several types of media, including water colors, acrylics, etching, wood carving, ceramics, stone sculpting, glass mosaics, mobile and window staining. In the past two seasons, students at the Studio have exhibited works at the Princeton Jewish Center.

Mrs. Sharon holds a masters degree in arts and crafts and is the author and illustrator of the two volume "Arts and Crafts the Year Round." Those wishing further information should call 921-6156.

HATFIELD TO COME HERE

To Address Republican Club. Sen. Mark O. Hatfield (R., Ore.) will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner of the Republican Club of Princeton. The affair, a campaign dinner honoring local, county and state legislative candidates running for election this fall, will take place Tuesday, September 26, at the Princeton Inn.

Before his election to the Senate in 1966, Sen. Hatfield was for eight years governor of Oregon. He has been a delegate to the last four Republican National Conventions and in 1964 was chosen to deliver the keynote address.

Mrs. Stanley C. Smoyer and Mrs. James S. Hill are supervising arrangements for the dinner. They are selling tickets at $20 per person on a first-come first-served basis.

LIBRARY OPEN LONGER

With Fall Coming, As summer draws to an end, Princeton Public Library plans to resume its regular schedule. Beginning this week, the Library will remain open on Saturday.

Library hours will be from 9 to 9 Monday through Thursday and from 9 to 5:30 on Friday and Saturday. The Children's Department will be open from 9 to 9 only on Monday. Its hours Tuesday through Saturday will be 9 to 5:30.

HORSE SHOW PLANNED

By Rough Riders. The Montgomery Rough Riders will sponsor a horse show and gymkhana at Hasty Acres in Kingston on Saturday at 9 a.m. regardless of the weather.

Everyone from 9 to 19 is eligible, and lead line classes will be held for those under 9. Riders do not have to own their own horses. Games will include relay races, egg and spoon, musical tires and barrel racing, and there will be a costume class for the funniest, prettiest and most original costumes.

Entry fee is $5 per rider for the day and $1 per rider per game. Entry blanks and a copy of the rules may be obtained from Miss Sally Snedeker, 359 6487, or Mrs. Clifford Higgins (evenings only), 921-8925.

BID 'N BUY RETURNS
To Rocky Hill. The Rocky Hill Community Group is once again sponsoring its Bid 'n Buy fund-raising fair. Last year more than $1,000 was raised toward restoration of the Community House.

Bid 'n Buy takes places Saturday, September 16, at the former Hercules Powder Plant. The chief attraction will be the sale — beginning at 10 — of furniture, antiques, appliances and bric-a-brac.

Also featured will be the sale of books, ceramics, baked goods, aprons and handiwork. There will be a "fishpond" to keep smaller children occupied.

Mrs. Veronica Naughton is chairman of the event, with the assistance of Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. Monema Kenyon and Miss Edna Robotti. For further information or to arrange for the pickup of items to be donated for sale, any of them may be contacted.

News Of The CHURCHES

REVIEWING THE SUMMER

At The Catacomb, The Church and the teens have been in uneasy partnership again this summer at The Catacomb — but a handful of nearly invisible catalysts, ages 19 to 23, have made a difference. Unknown to nearly all of the adult community, although most of them live in Princeton, the youth leaders were submerged summerlong in the teeming teenage world that fanned out from the coffeehouse.

"The Catacomb is a meeting place where kids can find each other," Larry Cohen, one of the catalysts, said a few weeks ago. "We get the different cliques from all over — the Negroes, the Italians, the Establishment-type kids — with relatively little friction. It's kind of neutral ground."

The youth leaders, all members of Youth Associates' summer staff, encouraged fledgling projects, argued pros and cons on decisions, helped kids get out of trouble, shared jokes and cokes, listened to hopes and doubts and woes — and defended Trinity's wrought iron fence.

Each encounter between the Church and the teens in recent years has resulted in both parties moving off to review damage and attitudes. New strategies are planned, new defenses and rules are laid out and programs re-directed along increasingly creative lines.

First Presbyterian Church pioneered the church coffeehouse in early 1966, opening its basement on school day afternoons in response to a petition from Princeton High School students. Promptly christened The Tomb by the youngsters (one of whom told the clergy, "because Nietzsche said the Church is Christ's tomb"), it became a focal point of after school life.

"Out of Hand." The Tomb was daily jammed to the walls and rapidly got out of hand in a series of stunning confrontations between some of the teens and the Church, involving noise, petting, drinking, marijuana, rudeness to the clergy, property damage, gambling and theft. It was closed at the end of the school year. The one nugget the experience produced was that the Princeton Seminary student in charge William Kight, and his fellow students, who dropped in as volunteers, had developed an unofficial counseling service for a number of troubled or alienated youngsters.

Capitalizing on this strength, First Presbyterian opened The Catacomb in early summer 1966 with college students as managers directed by Youth Associates, with folk music and jazz instead of rock and Larry Cohen reports. "The Chapin Brothers came down from the Bitter End and played for free. Half way through their act, the coffeehouse was packed."

performers instead of record

With plenty of variety on the program, The Catacomb required a regular staff of 10 youth leaders with "about five steadies from the high school group as waiters and waitresses. Trinity Church women were in charge of the cooking, but the teenagers pitched in, especially on Tuesdays and Sundays, the busy nights."

Trinity's involvement of adult members of the congregation was a new step, as was the continually warm and friendly presence of a clergyman, the Rev. Arthur J. Lockhart. Adults, such as Sam and Ruth Fox, would drop in, stay a while. The youth leaders for the first time involved the teenagers in volunteer service projects.

Damage Continues. Damage control has presented the same problem to Trinity as to First Presbyterian and many teenagers' homes. The youngsters have given the church hardware, to the near despair of the caretaker.

These activities sponsored by Youth Associates and the innumerable YA trips reduced attendance at The Catacomb to a manageable size, Dave Turner, in his second year as Catacomb manager; John Bentley, Nancy Rogers, Dave Brunner, Tom Flank, Bob Faron, Scott Rohrer, Lynn Young, names familiar to Princeton's teenagers, have begun youth work in depth for the first time.

"One of the goals I set this year," John Bentley said last week, "was to involve the teenagers totally in the Catacomb program for the night and also in the continuous running of The Catacomb night after night. In 1966 most of this work was done by the staff, a member was always behind the counter serving food, but this way we are free to go about from group to group because it is run by the teenagers themselves."

Audience Receptive. The drama group presented a series of Pfeifer sketches at the coffeehouse during the summer. There was a showing of 14-year-old old Scott Marshall's color sound movie.

Members of The Ivy Men and other Princeton combos performed. Judy Collins made a surprise appearance through the efforts of Trika Smith, as did the Chapin Brothers, and Jamaican calypso singers, Jan and Jim, performed one night.

"The audiences this year were fantastically receptive," and jazz instead of rock and Larry Cohen reports. "The Chapin Brothers came down

Newspaper publicity on the iron fence resulted in (1) phone calls from worried parishioners, (2) a check in four figures to back up the Catacomb and (3) a teenagers' decision to pay for the damage.

"So much of the damage has taken place through just not thinking!" Rogers Carrington, Youth Associates director, said at Trinity on Friday. It isn't malicious. You ask them 'Do you realize WHAT you're doing?' And they say, 'Oh my gosh!'"

Two matters The Catacomb leaders are turning over in their minds: why did someone butt out a cigarette on the altar, and why do the teenagers sometimes turn up for the 5 p.m. prayer service.

"The kids I have worked with," as John Saladino observed last week, "span the gamut."

TIME CHANGE ANNOUNCED
For Sunday Services. Worship services in the churches of the Princeton community return this week to normal schedule.

The Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel will preach at 9 and 11 a.m. services in First Presbyterian Church. His sermon title is "Endless Summer."

At Princeton Methodist, the Rev. Dr. Leon Gibson will conduct the 11 a.m. service, speaking on the topic "Spiritually Specializing." The church school will mark Rally Day and Promotion Sunday at 9:45 a.m.

The worship and ministry committee of the Society of Friends has announced that meeting for worship will return

Obituaries

George P. Quabek, 50, formerly of Princeton, died August 29, at his home, 4 Lupine Way, Clark, N.J. He was the husband of Mrs. Alma L. Quabek.

A native of Newark, Mr. Quabek was a research assistant for Merck & Co., Rahway, for 17 years. A veteran of World War II, he was a member of Kingston Post 9312, Pennington, died September 3 in Donnelly Memorial Hospital, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Also surviving are two brothers, Charles Quabek, of Pennington, and Howard Quabek, of Colts Neck.

The service was held in the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. Tony MacNaughton of Linden Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret Kerr Briner, 70, formerly of 52 Patton Avenue, died August 30 in West Palm Beach, Fla. She was a clerk in the H. P. Clayton store for many years.

Born in Trenton, Mrs. Briner was a founder of the ladies auxiliary of the Hook and Ladder Fire Company, a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and a former member of Princeton Lodge 91, Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving are her husband, James L. Briner Jr.; a daughter, Mrs. Francis P. Pace of Riviera Beach, Fla.; a son, James L. Briner 3d of Jamesburg; a grandchild; three brothers, Wilbur F. and Harry H. Kerr of Princeton, and Ernest R. Kerr of Sea Girt, and a sister, Mrs. Bessie K. Hendry of Troy, N.Y.

The service was held in the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. Harold Brackhill officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Rudolf W. Bainbridge, 69, of Diverty Road, Pennington, died September 1 in Helene Fuld Hospital. He was the husband of the late Josephine M. Bainbridge.

Born in Titusville, Mr. Bainbridge was a lifelong resident of the Pennington area. He was a retired employee of Gilbert & Mott Chevrolet.

Surviving are a son, John A. Bainbridge, with whom he lived; a grandchild; three brothers, Henry and Walter of Trenton and Arthur of Pennington; and three sisters, Mrs. Joseph McIntyre of Princeton, Mrs.

tion, Mrs. John Allen of Pennington and Mrs. Paul McCarthy of Hamilton Square.

The service was held in Pennington, the Rev. A. Kenneth Magner, former pastor of the Pennington Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment was in Harbourtown Cemetery.

Mrs. Fannie A. Brown, 75, of Pennington, died September 3 in Donnelly Memorial Hospital.

Formerly of Ware, Mass., she had lived in this area for the past 12 years.

Widow of Charles Brown, Sr., she is survived by a son, Charles Brown, Jr. with whom she resided; a daughter Mrs. Clarence Mundell of Ware, Mass.; a brother, Clarence Edson of Somerville, Mass.; four grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Thursday from the Walker Funeral Home, Ware, Mass. Burial will be in Quabbin State Park Cemetery in Ware.

Mrs. Nancey T. Allinder, 44, of Milltown, a former resident of Princeton, died September 4 in St. Peter's Hospital in New Brunswick. Born in New York City, she was the wife of James P. Allinder.

Also surviving are a daughter, Susan T.; two sons, James F. and Michael A., all at home; five sisters, Mrs. Charles Tommaro of Monmouth Junction, Mrs. Juliette Odas and Mrs. Angeline Braun, both of Trenton, Mrs. Edmund Carter of Lawrenceville and Mrs. Clifford Cota of Princeton, and five brothers, Anthony and Mario Caruso of Trenton, Joseph DiNardo of Levittown, Charles DiNardo of Cranbury, and Angelo DiNardo of Hightstown.

Requiem high mass will be celebrated at 9 a.m. Friday in Our Lady of Lourdes Church in New Brunswick with burial in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Mrs. Ada Eldridge, 85, of North Main Street, Hightstown, died September 3 in the Simon Law Nursing Home. Widow of Harvey Eldridge, she is survived by several cousins.

The service will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. at the Peoples Funeral Home, 114 South Main Street, Hightstown, with the Rev. David P. Muy.

This is the basis of Ralph Stone's play, "Construction," which will be shown at the first meeting of the WSCS of August and the first half of September.

Precautions to take before the hurricane season arrives include checking your home for loose shingles and shutters, shaky chimneys, and trees on your property for dead or dying limbs. A flashlight, candles and matches and a battery-powered radio should be available.

Residents of exposed areas should store a supply of boards to nail over windows. A source of canned heat and an emergency food supply should be stored in the least vulnerable spot in the home.

LUNCHEON SET

For Jewish Center. The women's Division of the Princeton Jewish Center will hold a membership luncheon in the Center on Thursday, September 14, at noon. Mrs. Clarence Schwartz and Mrs. Simon LaRach are serving as chairmen for the luncheon at which members of the executive board will be hostesses.

Mrs. Deborah Ross, home economist working for the Manischewitz Co., will speak on Jewish cookery. Her discussion is intended to show how historic and geographic factors have shaped the Jewish cuisine.

Guests of the Women Division will attend the luncheon without charge. Those interested should contact Mrs. Schwartz at 924-0555 or Mrs. Owen Cooper at 924-5632.

The faculty includes seven new teachers: Mrs. John Brown, 6th grade; Mrs. Murray Deutsch, 2nd grade; Mrs. Virginia Giebel, mathematics; Mrs. Glenn Leyde, English; Mrs. Paula Cohen, French; Mrs. Harry Getler, remedial reading; and Dennis Bonebreak, gymnastics. The tea is sponsored by the school's PTA.

ADVICE ISSUED

On Hurricanes. With the hurricane season imminent, Thomas S. Dignan, state civil defense and disaster control director, has issued a free booklet that describes precautions to take before, during and after the big storms. A limited number of booklets are available from the county civil defense and disaster control coordinator.

Most of the hurricanes that seriously affect the eastern seaboard are born during the months of August, with more than half of these occurring during for the large family who needs big rooms, and many of them. Roomy four bedroom colonial in the much wanted Riverside area offers space, convenience, a handsome lot and a potentially pretty terrace — and is just five years old. Good separation, too, for the family of many interests. Father can work in his study without the interruption of tots or teenagers busy in their own panelled playroom! Roomy dry basement, divided for utility and work areas, is great for the home craftsman or hobbyist. Redecoration needed — but what fun to put your own tasteful touches into making this a gracious home. Offered at $58,500, and ours alone.

Luxuriously long . . . custom brick and stone Ranch a short six minutes from Princeton, in an area of fine homes. There's access to a secluded rear porch from either the paneled den, or the all-electric kitchen. Privacy is keyed on the acre and half corner lot by many trees. $53,500

A 2-Story High Brick Fireplace . . . just one of the many unusual appointments you'll find in this newly completed 5-bedroom, custom built Colonial. There's an unusually designed covered porch extending across the rear of the house . . . when you're not enjoying the central air conditioning. $64,500

YOU'LL HUFF AND YOU'LL PUFF: but if you think you can blow this one down, forget it! Whether you favor the jump test, the wall rap, or the beam and sill jab or an ingenious combination of all three, if you're a house fester we invite your most vigorous efforts towards this solid older two story in the High School area of Princeton Borough. Built 40 years ago by a construction perfectionist it contains center hall, living room with fireplace and french doors to a solarium, dining room, newly modernized kitchen, pantry and lavatory on the first floor. Upstairs, 3 bedrooms and another bath. Excellent attic and cellar storage Garage. Fine lot with trees. $40,000

LITTLE WHITE HOUSE WITH MORE: if you've noticed our sign in front of a charming slate roofed Cape Cod on Laurel Road in Princeton Township you've probably thought "what an adorable little house" Adorable yes, little, emphatic no! Here are its statistics: large living room, large glass walled dining sitting room (both these have fireplaces), well planned kitchen with a breakfast nook which will seat 8, big paneled playroom, 4 bedrooms, 2 full baths, large dormitory room, 2 car garage, basement. And there's plenty of room outside too on a shaded half acre $54,800

OFF THE BEATEN TRACK: But still conveniently inside Princeton Township, this luxurious contemporary on its acre of woods could be just the spot you thought you'd never find! An airy, open floor plan contains stone floored entry, large high ceilinged living room with fireplace, dining ell, family room, lush kitchen, 3 bedrooms and 2 baths. Outside, you'll love the two shaded flagstone terraces, the adjacent swimming pool and its surrounding dogwoods. Two car garage. $65,000

THE OUTBACK: both inside and out, is the thing that sets this attractive Township Cape Cod apart from all others like it. The usual rooms are all there, but bigger; living room with fireplace, dining room, study-bedroom with adjoining powder room, kitchen and laundry-mud room. Upstairs, two bedrooms and a full bath. Then the big plus in the form of a large paneled family room behind the living room with a wide wall of windows overlooking the rose edged terrace and secluded rear garden. Altogether a delightful house at $37,500

FOR THE BEGINNING BUILDER: Before you tackle that 100 lot subdivision try your skills on this three lot package in Princeton Township. All city utilities are in. Located within walking distance of the shopping center, the John Witherspoon School and the high school. Level, easily worked land with some nice shade trees. Priced, for all three, at $24,800

TWO FOR THE ROAD: Albert Finney and Audrey Hepburn tour France in the adult comedy about love and marriage now at the Playhouse and the Prince theatres.

News Of The THEATRES

NEW SEASON!

McCarter's Longest. A full, unbroken 29 weeks of professional repertory will be offered during the coming season at McCarter—the longest season ever presented at the theatre. Opening night will be October 6. The final curtain will fall next April 6.

Except for the Triangle Club show and the Christmas ballet presentations, performances will run right through December and January without a break.

Several actors in last year's company will be back, and all actors will be here for the entire 29-week period. McCarter officials point out that this means a more cohesive company, more rehearsal time and a smoother season all around. Subscribers may choose among 63 performances, as opposed to the 48 given last year in the combined fall-spring season. This year, there will be as many as three weeks between "opening nights," so that subscribers may mix their social evenings with their theatre evenings.

In fact, there are six "series" to choose from: two on Friday nights, two on Saturday nights and one each on Thursday evenings and Sunday afternoons. In addition, there will be non-subscription Fridays and non-subscription Saturdays.

One of the most inviting subscription ideas this season is McCarter's discount ticket book: you pay $16 for $20 worth of coupons which you exchange for tickets. This device is designed for people who can't commit their time to a full season, and for people who like to save a little money.

Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple" will open the series on Friday, October 6. Subsequent plays will be Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," Pirandello's "Enrico IV"; three one-acters by Dean Swift, the contemporary playwright Wolf Mankowitz and the anonymous medieval English dramatist, who wrote "The Second Shepherd's Pageant."

Then back to Shakespeare with "The Merchant of Venice," followed by Arthur Miller's "The Crucible," John Gay's "The Beggar's Opera," Marlowe's "Doctor Faustus," and finally, Beaumarchais' "The Marriage of Figaro."

Already McCarter is happy: subscriptions are 20 percent a head of last year.

PLAYHOUSE AND PRINCE
Two For The Road (now playing) is a complex and beautifully made move, eye filling and engrossing, with excellent performances by the stars, Audrey Hepburn and Albert Finney.

On the surface, the plot is simple enough, the romance of a young architect and the college girl he meets while on a hiking tour of France. Their courtship is hectic and intense, followed by marriage. Later they make other tours of the Continent — one with a married couple and their obnoxious brat, another with a wealthy Frenchman and his wife, and a third with their own child, a girl, and it is on this trip that the marriage starts to fall apart.

The unorthodox telling of the story juggles time in a manner reminiscent of the films of Alain Resnais. No chronological order is followed; one episode will have something in it to recall another at an entirely different time.

Some of the situations are really basic. The dialogue is literate and witty, written by Frederick Raphael, who also wrote "Darling." On occasions the language is blunt and bitter. On the other hand, director Stanley Donen has conceived some of the most beautiful scenes of the French country side and stunning closeups of actors since "A Man and a Woman."

The film is best suited for mature audiences.

EXPERTS IN HAIR CARE: Mario (left) and his partner, Richard, are the owners of the new Four Seasons hair dressing salon on Witherspoon Street.

IT'S NEW To Us

HAVE YOUR HAIR DONE
And Forget Parking Worries. The cost of a traffic ticket need not be added to the cost of your next shampoo and set if you pull into the spacious parking yard at the new Four Seasons beauty salon on Witherspoon Street.

Four Seasons is next to Condi's, roughly across Witherspoon from Community Park School. If you recall the old Hawley's Meat Market, you're right on site, because Four Seasons has taken over the Hawley spot. (No more ham burger — but we'll go into that later.)

Anyhow, about half a dozen cars can park in the shady lot right in front of the door on Witherspoon, and there is room for 100 — one hundred! — cars in the rear. All free, needless to say.

The temptation to have your hair done just before you pick up the kids at school, will be irresistible. And when you go inside Four Seasons . . . !

As we hinted above, the meat-market atmosphere is no more. Instead, you'll find a tranquil salon, spacious and serene, done in royal blue, ivory and gold with the grace of French Provincial. The building's partitions have been removed, and the salon extends back an incredible 114 feet — 1,900 square feet of space, and that's a lot of dryers.

All this acreage means that you have a separate room for permanents and tinting, a separate room for cutting and styling, a separate room for drying, a separate room for wigs and hairpieces.

"For the personal comfort and convenience of every woman who enters our shop — that's why we're here," says Richard, one of the two partners in Four Seasons.

The other is Mario, and now you know that Four Seasons is really The House of Mario.

moved to the new location from the building on Nassau Street next to Morris Maple. "We were in the former place for four years," Mario recalls, "but here we have so much more space and, so much more parking room!"

Within the new shop, the two partners have 18 air-conditioned dryers, two coloring machines and the franchise for Viviane Woodard cosmetics.

Richard is the Woodard expert: he has been with the firm for seven years, and is a deft expert you'll turn to easily for make-up advice.

Mario's specialty is plucking ears and performing electrolysis, although he also attended the Woodard cosmetic school.

"The newer look in hair for fall," Mario suggests, "is either very long, or very short with bangs; nothing in between. For the short look, a woman needs a wave to give body to the hair. If she wants the longer look for evening, we have wigs and hairpieces which we both sell and service."

The Four Seasons shop is open six days a week, starting at 9 a.m. On Thursday and Friday nights, the shop is open until 9 p.m. The number to call for an appointment is 921-7176. In addition to Mario and Richard, there are Fran and Marge, who were in the former shop, and Dave, who is a newcomer.

yellow in a McLeod, just for example.

It will also pick up a narrow yellow stripe in some other tans, just as the light blue sweater will harmonize with the predominant Anderson blue, or the brief square of blue in another color.

Sweaters are also designed in crew-neck or cardigan style with modified Irish knit, and dyed the same colors as the kits.

Skirts, from size five, and kilts from size three, are about $15, although the shorts are about $13. The merino sweater is $11.

We mix and match again with skirts by Wranglers in denim or corduroy, and have you seen the printed twill jeans in dark calico or strong stripes, like yellow or navy?

Corduroy, in thick-thin wale, comes in wonderful autumn-leaf shade and even bright prints, to make corduroy jeans that are a nice change from the twill or the denim. (It's permanent press corduroy, though.) Prices are $4.50.

On top, you wear a widely-striped sweater in gold-navy-red, or brown wheat green, or whatever combination you need to match your slacks.

Getting back to skirts, we find non kilts in tweeds, plaids and checks, ranged on racks as far as the eye can see.

Some of these are part of a suit, and Landau reminds suit-shoppers that jackets are longer this fall. Here's an example, in a gold-black diagonal tweed, closed with double-breasted brass buttons. Comes in camel and russet, too.

Solid kelly homespun (cotton or cotton), has been used for another long jacket suit. You may have this color and fabric

And About Time!

The big dress pattern companies have gotten together and agreed to cut their patterns in the same size as ready-made dresses.

This is roughly equivalent to an announcement that cab drivers are going to give up horses and use automobiles. Under the present archaic and completely unreasonable system, you buy a size 14 pattern if you wear a size 12 dress; wear a 12 pattern if you wear a size 10, and so on.

Starting November 1, if you buy a new pattern, you buy it in your ready-made dress size. All new patterns will be stamped so you'll know, but do be careful, as you know dress patterns are not returnable.

The Fabric Shop on Chambers Street tells us that Vogue, Simplicity, McCalls and Butterick are the major companies making the change. Hooray for them!

with a round collar or a classic lapel. Suit prices at Landau's are $30 to $40.

Jumpers are classic, but some have a little cowl neckline or a brief belt at each low hip just to show you life can be different. A windowpane check even has a yoke.

STRIPES, STRIPES . . .

Stripes. Everything goes round and round at The Fabric Shop on Chambers Street. Stripes in olive-rust-yellow, stripes in hot orange-navy-gold, stripes in royal-shocking-emerald, stripes separated by a white line, stripes separated by a black line. We got 'em all.

They encircle the dress you will make of 54-inch bonded orlon knit. Looks and feels like fine wool, and so suppose it's easy to sew with soft little turns over collar or simple collarless neckline.

Now that you're finished with little cottons for little first-graders, you can choose a sophisticated dark cotton for yourself. It might be Fabric Shop's steel blue, rust and white paisley stripe, the one that also comes in a claret and blue and white. Peter Pan's sailcloth cotton has hard-edge stripes of claret, turquoise and olive.

Fabric Shop would like us to remind you that custom-made draperies, chosen by you from the Waverly-Schumacher fabric collection, are an important part of Fabric Shop business.

The shop will measure your windows — in fact, they'd rather do the measuring themselves because customers don't always know precisely what to measure — and install the drapes on traverse rods.

Lining? Certainly. If you have a pair of French doors to cover, you may want to consider the insulated linings that will help keep heat in.

The drapery specialist in The Fabric Shop is Mrs. Lucille Carnevale, so when you call 924-1478, be sure to ask for her.

Meanwhile, you've made yourself a poncho from Fabric Shop's heavy blanket-weight wool, perhaps the russet and beige one, or maybe the olive and red. Colors are soft as an autumn rain.

For a kilt (Simplicity's 7213?), choose one of the wools or wool blends in lighter weights, and authentic clan tartans.

ready for Piano study?

Find out in just 11 weeks at Piano Playshop.

Cost is only $25.

Should your child start piano lessons this fall? There's a simple, inexpensive way to find out. Piano Playshop offers children, as young as 7, an unusual introduction to music, while evaluating their readiness and aptitude for piano study. No piano at home is required. There's no home practice involved. The Piano Playshop is an enriching musical experience and, most important of all, it's just plain fun. Classes start week of September 18th, so call or write for full details today.

Limited Openings for Beginning Students

There are a limited number of openings for beginning piano students in the fall trimester. Classes of children, from the 3rd grade up, will receive instruction under the supervision of nationally-known teachers. Classes begin the week of September 18th, so register now.

David Wilbur: A Career of Service to Others

KNOW YOUR POLICEMAN
(Sixth of a Series)

Township Badge 14. The hours of policemen are erratic. Year after year they are faced with rotating shifts and a zig-zag pattern of duty on weekends and holidays. Even on their days off they are subject to a call to duty during emergencies. One would think then that a patrolman would avoid situations that place further — and capricious — demands on his free time.

Such is not the case with Township Patrolman David G. Wilbur. This 30 year old Princeton native has lashed himself for not so much a career as a patrolman as he has of service. It is an impressive one.

He is a member of the Princeton Hook & Ladder volunteer fire department, has been for eight years. For the past six, he has been a member of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad. Both organizations place a member on call at any time, day and night.

During the last three years, he has, in tandem with Township Lt. Richard Steiner, guided and directed the Princeton Junior Rifle Club, a youth project of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association. The PBA's P.D. Wilbur has been president of Local 130, which embraces the Borough and Township since last June.

Rescue Squad Member. What is his reaction to all this? "Sometimes I'm kept pretty busy when a lot of things start happening at once," he replied. "Any time I have left I spend with my family."

Why did he stay in the Rescue Squad after he joined the Township force in November of '63? "It's been extremely handy in police work. I've used the skills I gained in first and many times at accident scenes, and the extra work with the Rifle Club." "I enjoy it."

His involvement with the Rifle Club is particularly pertinent at a time when the country is embroiled over the passage of gun control laws. He reported that the club teaches boys and girls between 12 and 18 safe gun handling and respect for the use of firearms. Working solely with .22 caliber rifles, all members have an opportunity to shoot each week at the Citizens Rifle and Revolver Range on the Princeton Hightstown Road. The youths compete for awards.

The program is patterned after guidelines set up by the National Rifle Association. P.D. Wilbur added there are sum-ther clubs all over the country

Was Crossing Guard. Wilbur went through the Princeton school system, graduating from PHS in 1955. While still in school he began working as a clerk at the A&P, then located on Nassau Street where Daydison's is now. During this stay with A&P — he left in 1961 — he served as a school crossing guard for the Township.

"I decided then to become a policeman," he said. He applied but the Township wouldn't take him because he had no service time.

In the Navy, which he joined in July of 61, he served as a radioman on board the U.S.S. Enterprise, this country's first and only nuclear powered carrier and the largest ship in the world. After two Mediterranean cruises in two years, Wilbur was discharged in July, 1963. Two weeks later he took the police examination. He started his career as a Township Patrolman on November 15.

Commenting on his almost four years as a policeman, P.D. Wilbur said "It's been a pleasure for me; both with the men I work with and in meeting the public. You meet all kinds of people under all circumstances."

Unlike some patrolmen, Wilbur reported that he likes all phases of police work. "I would probably have difficulty going back to any office job," he said. "I like to work outdoors and after a while one gets used to it no matter what the weather is outside."

P.D. Wilbur lives with his wife, Judith, at 33 Pine Street. They have two children, David Jr. 3, and Sharon, 2.

He met his wife, a native of West Virginia, while he was in the service. "She was working in Norfolk and living in the same apartment house as a buddy of mine. He introduced us and one thing led to another." They were married in September 1963, two months after he was discharged.

What does he do in those few idle moments? "I like all sports; I've done some hunting and played some baseball. Whenever I get some spare time I like to travel. I'd like to see San Francisco some day."

In reviewing his career in school, in the Navy and as a policeman, P.D. Wilbur said, no, he couldn't recall anything unusual or outstanding in any of them. Perhaps there have been no peaks, as he says, but that plain of service to others is awfully high.

ASTRONOMERS TO MEET
To Discuss Methods. The Amateur Astronomers Association of Princeton will hold a public meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the YMCA to hear a speech on "Observation Methods for the Amateur."

Michael R. Meiley, an engineer and executive of the Lehigh Valley, Pa., Amateur Astronomical Society, will be the speaker. He will discuss methods of using the telescope, group observational programs and techniques of variable star observing.

WIG SHOW PLANNED
At Montgomery Meeting.

The Montgomery Woman's Club meeting on Thursday, September 7, will feature a demonstration of wigs and hairpieces. The meeting will be held at 8:15 at the First National Bank of Somersett County in Belle Mead.

The demonstration will be conducted by Mrs. Pepi and Robert of the Doll House Beauty Salon in the Montgomery Shopping Center. Mrs. Enos Parsell will preside at a business session which will precede the demonstration.

NEWCOMERS TO MEET
To See Film. The Newcomers' Club of the YWCA will meet on Wednesday, September 13, at 12:30 at the Y to see a film on the Y's program. Nursery care will be available for children from 1 to 4 years old.

The Newcomers' Club is open to newcomers who have lived within a 15 mile radius of Princeton for less than two years. It is intended to help new residents become acquainted with other newcomers and the community.

CHECK YOUR EYES
At Free Clinic. Princeton Hospital will hold an Eye Health Screening Program from September 18 through 20. Examinations will be free to adults over 35.

Doctors will check for eye disease and recommend appropriate treatment when necessary. The examinations will be held in the Outpatient Department from 12 to 2 on each of the three days with a special evening session on September 20 from 6 to 8.

Dr. Henry Abrams, chief of the Hospital's Section of Ophthalmology, will direct the clinic. He will be assisted by Dr. E. Frederick Laschever, Dr. Louis Ramponi and Dr. Arnold B. Popkin.

TIME TO REGISTER

For YMCA Programs. Registration will begin Monday and run until next Saturday for the more than 70 programs on the YMCA's fall schedule. Registration hours will be 9 to 9 on weekdays and 9 to noon on Saturday.

The schedule offers programs for every age and interest. Younger boys will be able to choose from three adventure clubs, an arts and crafts class and an Indian guide program.

Athletics, including swimming, tumbling, wrestling and horseback riding, are offered for all age groups. Older boys are eligible for Ranger Clubs. The High School program centers around several clubs, including the newly-reorganized Razorback Hi-Y for juniors, and seniors, the XX's for sophomore and juniors and a new club for freshmen and sophomores.

High School students will also be invited to participate in the adult classes in judo, weight lifting and swim instruction. Chess and folk singing classes will also be held.

A class in antique identification for men is one of the new offerings. Ski classes and a first aid course are among those which are returning. Those wishing further information should call 921-4825.

FALL HOURS SET

By Public Library. Full time Saturday service will be resumed by the Princeton Public Library beginning Saturday.

The library's hours are: adult department, 9 to 9, Monday through Thursday and 9 to 5:30, Friday and Saturday; children's department, 9 to 9 on Monday and 9 to 5:30 Tuesday through Saturday.

Calling All
Home Makers

By Walter L. Harris

WE ARE NOW GOING THROUGH A NEW ERA IN HOME DECORATION

HARRIS
During the last few years there has been a quiet revolution going on in the furniture and decorating business concerning the proper way to furnish a home.

In the past, anyone could buy a book on decorating and follow the rules concerning what goes with what, which colors may be used together, how to recognize and use different periods of furniture, etc.

While there are still many such books, and while they still contain much that is helpful, there have been vast changes in the thinking of professional decorators and furniture store personnel.

More and more people are disregarding all of the old rules.

Does green go with blue? Does orange go with yellow? Does Early American go with Contemporary? Many of the old rules said "no" to questions like these. Now, however, the answers may well be "yes." There are now exciting ideas and concepts in decorating. There is more emphasis today on furnishing a home with individuality rather than furnishing it like all other homes.

It's an exciting time in home decoration, and we invite you to come in and share in this excitement — come in and see all the new items . . . the new colors and color combinations . . . and the new ideas. And then you can enjoy the thrill of starting to furnish your home in beautiful new ways.

WE DO!

WHERE DO YOUR CHILDREN PLAY?

One Princeton mother of a 7-year-old was approached by a neighbor as she came home from work. "I think you ought to know," he said, "that I made your boy get down off the roof of the house that's going up behind my place. That roof is easy 30 feet high . . ."

Another woman was called at the hospital where she was visiting her sick husband. "Your daughter is here in the accident ward! She's fractured her arm." The child had fallen from a stone wall.

Youngsters will test the ice on the Lake or explore the beams at the Cage, or try to walk a floating board in a water-filled excavation. One sporting group sneaks a spin in the clothes dryers on Witherspoon Street . . . Even when they're old enough to know better, kids play tag with danger — dare each other to take crazy risks.

Since growing children want to explore, the trick is to offer something that has as much appeal as their own jaunts — something with lots of activity and action.

Have you noticed how even the toughest kids and those with the most energy get involved in group projects? Do you know about the programs that are offered by the YWCA, the YMCA, Scouting, the churches and schools? What your child learns in community sports and creative play may decide his entire future.

Take care. We care!

THE STOVE ROARED

Wednesday was such a pleasant day that one of Princeton's many Mrs. Millers decided to serve the family dinner outdoors. She lit the gas stove to cook hamburgers, and a wall of flame shot out, mounting with a roar towards the ceiling.

Her son ran for the phone. Officer Buccanese of the Township Police booted into the driveway in a matter of minutes and, just as the flames were licking the ceiling, smothered the fire with a portable extinguisher.

The cause was a leak in the stove, pocketing gas underneath the burners. It happens often enough, police and firemen say, to merit having a fire extinguisher in the house.

If you, like Mrs. Miller, have put off buying a fire extinguisher, here are some answers to questions you may have. (Remember, a fire extinguisher, like a first-aid kit, is something to use until the doctor comes. Your first concern is 1) to get your family out of the house and 2) call the fire department.)

Q: What type of fire extinguisher is the most useful at home?

A: Fire protection specialists recommend a 2½-pound, dry-chemical type for general home use. It weighs about 7 pounds and is easy to handle. Recharge or replace it after each use. Always look for the UL (Underwriters' Laboratory) or FM (Factory Mutual) label.

Q: What is the cost?

A: Retail prices range from about $8 to $16.

Q: Why not get a cheaper one?

A: Inadequate fire extinguishers promise fire protection they don't have and endanger you by giving you a false sense of security. "Beer can", "squeeze bottle" and "puff-puff" plastic types equipped with a small bellows can sometimes get you into worse trouble than if you hadn't used them in the first place.

Q: Does the dry-chemical type leave a mess or give off poisonous fumes?

A: The extinguishing agent is a very fine powder under pressure. It spreads a powdery film over a room; it can be vacuumed up. It is non-toxic.

Q: Will it put out all types of fires — paper, draperies, electrical wiring, grease?

A: Although classified "BC" for use on flammable liquids (such as gasoline or grease) and electrical fires, the dry chemical extinguisher can also knock down the flames of the items you mention. Glowing remains of some fires and must be finished off with water to prevent flash back.

Q: Where should the extinguisher be kept?

A: In the kitchen and workshop areas. Mount it away from the expected hazard.

You are following a car that's approaching the Dutch Neck Circle. As the light ahead changes from green to yellow, you figure the driver up ahead will go on through. But at the last second, he quits, brakes — comes to a screeching halt close in front of you. Are you alert for such a sudden stop?

You've stopped behind a car on Nassau Street at Witherspoon, waiting for the light to change. It changes, and the car up ahead of you moves off. You start up after him. But then a pedestrian at the curb by First National Bank runs out, and the driver in front of you slams on his brakes. Have you seen the pedestrian leave the curb?

You're on Elm Road, heading for work at ETS, caught in the morning traffic at the turn for Rosedale Road. You are following three other cars when suddenly the lead car puts on the brakes. The second stops, the third driver slams on his brakes and just barely stops. Are you back far enough to avoid a ramming?

Expect the driver in front of you to stop anywhere, any time. Watch your distance.

FENDER BENDERS

Street intersections have always been a legal place for traffic accidents. The one above occurred as the convertible turned left, coming out of Mercer Street onto Nassau near Bayard Lane. The truck veered to avoid the car, but couldn't stop in time. The corner at Mercer is controlled by a stop sign.

Intersections can be negotiated safely if you will slow down, stop, accelerate or take appropriate evasive action.

This doesn't mean that each and every intersection has to be approached as if it were radioactive.

If your car is moving at only 20 mph you need an average of 47 feet — three car lengths — to react to avoid a fender bender.

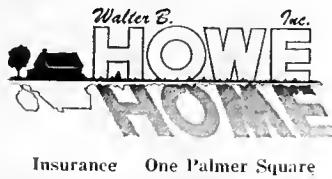

You need to be able to estimate the speed of approaching vehicles at a quick glance and to determine your place in the traffic pattern.

Some drivers depend on luck. A good driver knows that legal right-of-way doesn't protect him from fools and violators.

PROGRAM CONFERENCE: Mrs. Warren Kauffman, left, vice-president of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Princeton confers with president Mrs. Roy Geddes on program plans for the coming club year.

affair will be limited to 100 couples.

Reservations are $15 per couple and may be made by calling Mrs. Milton Winters, 921-0393. Mrs. Reuben Cohen and Mrs. David Capra are co-chairmen of the party.

THEME SELECTED

By Professional Women The Business and Professional Women's Club of Princeton will open its "Plan for Princeton to Know Your Community Better" campaign with a meeting on Monday at 10. The affair is scheduled in the University Room of Nassau Inn.

A. T. David, Research Administrator of Western Electric Engineering Research Center, is preparing the programs. His efforts include not only arrangements for the Monday meeting but also plans for talks and visitation with various Princeton organizations. Reservations for the meeting, the first gathering of the 1967-1968 club year, may be made through Mrs. Louise Matis, 924-5635.

VOTERS DISAPPROVE

Of Strikers Benefits Law A statewide public opinion survey, taken by pollster R. John Huie of Swarthmore, Pa., has found that a majority of New Jersey voters disapprove of the controversial strikers benefits law.

Scheduled to become effective January 1, the law states that workers who remain on strike after six weeks are entitled to unemployment benefits. The bill passed the Senate easily last spring but had heavier going in the Assembly and was finally approved by the margin of one vote.

The results of Mr. Huie's poll, leased by Harry Trulson of Montclair, chairman of New Jerseyans to Protect Unemployment Benefits, a 4,000 member organization, show 49 per cent of the Democrat, 41 per cent of the Republican and 41 per cent of the Independents in favor of the law.

"It is obvious that the people don't want a law which requires taxpayers to subsidize strikers," Mr. Trulson said. "This has got to be the major issue of the forthcoming legislative campaign. Candidates must be responsive to the wishes of the electorate and the voter's view has been made unmistakably clear by this opinion survey."

Of those disapproving the law, the most specific criticism was that it will encourage strikers, gives union workers too much power and is unfair to employers. Back of the bill contended that workers have to live some way and need the money to support their families.

Mr. Trulson's committee has opened an intensive campaign aimed at building up pressure for repeal of the law.

ited with prolonging the fatal walkout against the World Journal Tribune, Pennsylvania's law had to be repealed after the coal strike in 1946 which made large inroads on commonwealth's unemployment benefits fund.

SENIORS TO TRAVEL

To Poconos: Princeton High School seniors are planning a day-long class outing at Split Rock Lodge in the Pocono Mountains on Friday, September 15. They will have the use of the facilities of the Treadway Inn Resort to swim, sail, canoe, hike or play tennis, basketball and volleyball.

Buses will leave the High School at 8:30 a.m. and arrive at the resort between 10:30 and 11. A dance will be held after dinner, and the group will return later in the evening.

The cost is $12.50, which includes meals. Information and permission slips are available at the school, and the first 200 reservations will be accepted. The trip will be canceled if 200 seniors do not sign up.

PEOPLE In The News

Two Princeton residents will enter Wesleyan University as freshmen this fall: Warren L. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Leonard White of 40 Leabrook Lane, and Bruce Johnson, son of Mrs. John S. Johnson of 75 Cleveland Lane. Both were graduated from Princeton High School last spring.

Army Specialist G. K. Battif, whose wife, Betty, lives at 421 Alexander Street, has been assigned to the fourth infantry division near Pleiku, Vietnam. Spec. Ratliff, a pioneer in the 29th Artillery, completed his basic training at Fort Hood, Texas.

Charles G. Tindall Jr., Cranbury Road, Grovers Mills, received a master of science degree at the annual summer commencement of Ohio State University at Columbus.

Claudia Dignan, 174 Springdale Road; Kathleen Cherry, 24 Dempsey Avenue; and Anne Moore, 9 Windsor Drive, will arrive at Beaver College, Glenside, Pa., on Sunday to begin a week of orientation for incoming freshmen. Miss Moore and Miss Cherry are graduates of Princeton High School. Miss Dignan graduated from the Masters School, Dobbs Ferry, N.Y.

Annelie Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Thompson, The Great Road, among the 51 co-eds at MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Fla., to be named a student counselor. She will arrive on the campus next week to receive instruction in counseling small groups of students.

Dr. Simon Mareson, 36 Marion Road, and Dr. Earl Rubington, 114 Kingston Road, Kingston, associate professors of sociology at Rutgers, presented papers last week at the 62nd annual meeting of the American Sociological Association held in San Francisco. Dr. Mareson spoke on the career development of government scientists; Mr. Rubington's paper was titled, "The Bottle Gang."

Dr. John A. van Raalte, 81 Harriet Drive, has been named to the Educational Council of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Dr. van Raalte, a member of the research staff of RCA Research Laboratories, will aid the Council in its attempt to guide young men and women interested in using the institute's educational facilities.

David W. Butterfield, 306 N. Nianne Blvd., has been appointed an account executive in the pharmaceutical division of Cummins, MacFall & Nutry, New Brunswick advertising agency. A former manager of the Veto Division of Johnson & Johnson, Mr. Butterfield will be responsible for planning and developing advertising marketing and promotional programs for drug accounts. He is a pharmacist and an associate member of the National Association of Retail Druggists.

NEW COURSES PLANNED

By Art Association. Two new courses, a rag tapestry workshop taught by Ann Wiseman Denzer, and painting techniques, oil or acrylic, taught by Peter Chapin have been added to the ten-week fall session sponsored by the Princeton Art Association.

Mrs. Denzer's course will center on primitive hand hooking, emphasizing composition and originality. Cloth remnants, old clothes and blankets and scraps of hand hooked and fine quality woolens collected from woolen mills in Maine this summer by Mrs. Denzer will be used.

Mrs. Denzer will teach a rag tapestry workshop at the Metropolitan Junior Museum in October, and has signed a contract with Reinhold Publications to write a book about the subject. Her class will be held Friday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30 at the PAA of 14 Nassau Street.

Emphasizing still life and interiors, Mr. Chapin's course will be held Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30. It is open to beginner and advanced students.

A graduate of Yale, Mr. Chapin received his master of Fine Arts degree from Columbia University. He has taught at St. Bernard's School in Gladstone, the Groton School, and is now a member of the faculty at Drew University. He has his own studio in Mendham and has received several prizes for his oils and shown in New York and New Jersey galleries.

Registration for all classes is open to all PAA members; non-members may enroll for a fee through Mrs. Simon Mareson, 36 Marion Road East, beginning Wednesday, September 20 through 27. Classes begin October 2.

Other classes scheduled include a life sketching course on Tuesdays, painting, oil and acrylic course Wednesday afternoons, figure and portrait painting, all media, Wednesdays from 7 to 10 p.m., a newly planned course in design on Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.; creative expression for children in grades 4-8, drawing and painting theories Saturday mornings, and a watercolor, outdoor course Mondays from 9:30 to 12:30 p.m.

TAPESTRY ON VIEW

By Stuart Students. A 14 foot by 14 foot hooked wool tapestry by students at the Stuart Country Day School has been placed on exhibit at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York. The tapestry has stimulated the museum to sponsor a Rag Tapestry Workshop for young people in October.

The tapestry, an example of the indigenous American art of "hooking," was made at Stuart under the direction of teacher-designer Ann Wiseman. Miss Wiseman will also direct the Metropolitan Museum workshop.

Seventy-five pounds of wool remnants, some from outgrown school uniforms, were cut in two quarter inch strips and hooked through a bucking material to make the tapestry. The pile is an inch deep.

The tapestry depicts in colors drawn from the entire spectrum animals, birds, trees, flowers and other plant life. Although they have not given it a name, the girls feel the work might be called something like "the beginning of the beginning."

Are good looks enough to sell a new phone?

We're not banking on it. That's why the Trimline® phone is packed with practical new ideas—like pushbuttons that come to you.

The lighted Touch-Tone® pushbuttons are right in the palm of your hand when you pick up the phone.

And just beneath them, another new idea: the recall button that lets you make a second call without first reaching to hang up. Just press the recall button . . . and you've got a dial tone.

You can put a Trimline phone in handy new locations—on the side of a kitchen cabinet, or under a counter—because you don't need to see the base to dial. The buttons are in the handset.

A new Trimline phone costs just pennies a day—and there's no extra charge for color. It's available in wall and table models, with either a standard dial or the new Touch-Tone pushbuttons that let you "dial" twice as fast. And the additional Touch-Tone charge covers all phones on your line.

Just call your Telephone Business Office to order the new Trimline phone.

It's the only telephone ever to be selected for the permanent design collection in New York's Museum of Modern Art. Looks alone might not sell a new phone. But they sure don't hurt.

ARE THE GIANTS DEAD?
Loss to Eagles Spells Trouble. Thirty minutes of exhibition football is insufficient time on which to base judgment of a team's potential for a 14-game season, but many of the 45,000 spectators who left Saturday's game between the New York Giants and Philadelphia Eagles had reason to feel that they had seen only one team capable of holding its own in the NFL this fall.

After taking a 13-3 half time lead to the dressing room, the Giants coasted steadily downhill during the final two periods, eventually absorbing a convincing 24-13 defeat. The result left them with a lone triumph in their first four exhibition contests and without the services of a valued linebacker, 225-lb. Larry Varga, who underwent knee surgery the next day and is lost for all of 1967.

Home-Grown "Giant"

Along with several losses through injuries, the New York Giants are minus another key performer in Stuart Kirkpatrick, who held down a summer job at the team's training camp at Fairfield, Conn.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Kirkpatrick, Cherry Valley Road, Stuart worked as an assistant to the equipment manager. His duties included everything from fastening chin straps on helmets to keeping quarterback Fran Tarkenton supplied with footballs during practice sessions.

Stuart also travelled with the team to three of its pre-season exhibition contests at Ithaca, N.Y., New Haven and Princeton last weekend. He'll be lost to the Giants for the whole season due to educational requirements at Millbrook School, Millbrook, N.Y., but he reports his work was "a great experience" and he may sign on again next summer.

THE POCKET HOLDS UP: Eagles' quarterback Norm Snead (16) launches one of the baker's dozen passes he completed in 24-13 triumph over Giants Saturday in Palmer Stadium. Unable to break in on him are defensive tackles Jim Moran (71) and Glenn Condren (70). TOWN TOPICS Photo by George Peterson.

touchdown that put the game beyond the Giants' reach. Chuck Mercein, the Yale alum who has been doing poor first half to complete 13 of 21 passes for 174 yards and Gogolak was drafted into the three scores, the last two aided in immense fashion by poor defensive work chargeable to Clarence Childs, Giants defensive back who twice let his man get beyond him.

Coach Allie Sherman's team, which fell back to a 3-3 tie in the Palmer Stadium series as a result of Saturday's loss, began the game impressively. The first quarter was barely more than half over when Tarkenton threw down the middle, hitting end Homer Jones in motion for a 65-yard touchdown. Two minutes later, the Giants raised their margin to 10-0 when the Eagles' rookie halfback, Dan Berry, fumbled and Jim Moran recovered for New York on the Philadelphia 18. Tarkenton couldn't move the Giants in, but Murdock's field goal was good at 10:22.

Field Goals Traded. The Eagles' Sam Baker narrowed the margin to 10-3 with a 38-yard placement at 14:38 of the opening round, Murdock matching this from 22 yards out midway through the second quarter for the only score of that period. The ten-point half-time lead was then pared by seven as early as 3:27 of the third quarter on a five-yard Snead toss to Harry Jones, most of the ground being covered when Childs let Hawkins get by him on a pass that ate up 51 yards.

That TD turned the game's initiative over to the Eagles, and they made sure they retained it after the goal line stand that kept the Giants less than a foot away from the end zone. The triumph was Philadelphia's third straight here, after the Giants had won in 1962, '63 and '64.

Snead the Star. Honors for the game went to Norm Snead, who moves slowly but throws hard, although a number of other backs stood out for the Eagles with their ball carrying. This group included Harry Wilson, Harry Jones and Izzy Lang, who frequently benefited from fine blocking up front. The afternoon's top receiver was tight end Mike Dikka, off his ability to keep going after being hit, although his total of three was matched

PHS FOOTBALL II

(This is the second of three articles on Princeton High School's football prospects for 1967.)

Line Has Holes. One reason why Princeton High School was able to win seven of nine last year — the most ever by one in the five years Dick Wood has been coach — was a strong offensive line.

From it he has lost an outstanding tackle, John McKeever; an equally fine guard, Rick Cisco; a steady performer at center in Craig Donaldson; and his own son, Tom, a mammoth 6-5, 205 lb. All-Mercer County end. Between them McKeever and Cisco weighed 457 pounds — McKeever, who came along better than Wood ever thought he would, weighing in at 237. "You don't replace guys like that very easily," said Wood.

One Wood didn't lose through graduation is co-captain Tom Butterfoss. Not only was Tom named to the All-Mercer County eleven, he was selected to the All-Delaware County team, the only junior so honored. Butterfoss, who has the size to be the impressive and good size, 6-0, 177. He performer he is, 6-4, 215 scored once last fall on a 59-pound, is equally adept on the yard pass from Thom Yoder defense. More than one losing in Princeton's 37-0 victory over coach came up to Wood last Ashbury Park. "If he grabs the year and said, "Butterfoss was ball in the open no one will the one who hurt us the most."

OFFENSIVE AND DEFENSIVE ENDS: Jay Springer (left) described by Princeton High School football coach Dick Wood as "the fastest man on the squad" will start at the weakside end position for the Little Tigers. Fred Fox will, as last year, play mostly as a defensive end. Both are seniors. (Staff Photos)

In looking over his tentative lineup, Wood reported that center and strongside end were the biggest pre-season question marks. "Offensively," he said, "The line would be about as big as last year's; defensively we'll be lighter." Following are the candidates for each position.

Weakside end: Jay Springer has this one locked up. Described by Wood as "the fastest man on the field," Jay has a good pair of hands catch him," commented Wood. Springer's a big plus for the Little Tigers.

Behind Jay is junior Pete McCrohan, tagged by Wood as a good receiver but weak blocker, and another junior, Tom Bain. Unknown but ranking possibly right behind Springer is newcomer Joe Fischer, a junior from Moorestown. Wood reported he heard Fischer had experience playing at Moorestown and he's hoping he will be able to work him into the offense.

Weakside guard. At the moment senior Joe LaPlaca is No. 1 on the chart. He played last year on the junior team and has been lifting weights to build up his strength, Wood said. He added, "LaPlaca works real hard."

Senior Jerry Fiabane, who will be a starting defensive guard, will take over if LaPlaca doesn't measure up. Fiabane is one of five returning lettermen who are linemen.

The others are Springer, Butterfoss, Nick Ryan and Fred Fox. Actually, if one goes by his number, he will discover Fox is a quarterback. But Fox played virtually every

Repeal the Strikers Benefits Law

Almost everybody's got his hand in your pocket these days. Another hand slides in January 1. That's when New Jersey's new law (S-400) provides unemployment checks to strikers. No joke. The law sneaked through by a one-vote margin last April, and only after a lot of political pressure.

This means the unemployment taxes taken out of your paycheck every week will be set aside to pay those on strike. It means more and longer strikes. It means fewer jobs and a weaker economy because companies already here are discouraged from expanding, and those outside the state won't come in. And it means that the hand in your pocket is going to take 20 per cent more in unemployment taxes.

Do we smile and say swell? Or do we say repeal that law, it's bad. The 9,000 (and growing) members of the PUB (Protect Unemployment Benefits) Committee say repeal it. Just as it was repealed in four other states. If you're for repeal, join us. Every legislative seat in Trenton is up for election this year and all the candidates will be waiting to see how strong the resentment is against paying unemployment checks to strikers. We aim to tell them. You tell your legislative candidates.

Fill in the form below, and send it to PUB headquarters. If you like, enclose a dollar or more. Then get your friends, neighbors and relatives to join also. Let's repeal the strikers benefits law.

See and Drive The SAAB New V-4 Engine

Funny, you don't look like a 4-cycle, 1498cc, 73hp, overhead valve V-4.

But you still think SAAB has only one kind of engine. Our famous 2-cycle, 3 cylinder "Shrike" engine. Well don't bet on it. Because SAAB now has a new V-4 engine, too. Zero to 50 in 10 seconds. Top speed of over 90 mph. More power for acceleration. For hills. For safer passing. (And V-4 SAABs have front wheel disc brakes, for stopping all that power.) Funny thing, but it looks like this new high-performance V-4 should make the rally-winningest car in the world an even bigger winner. (That's something you can bet on.)

Question of the Week

Question: Who do you think will win the American League pennant race?

Where asked: Around town.

Larry McHugh, West Windsor Township, PHS student: Boston — no question about it. They have the hitting, the pitching and their fielding is magnificent. With a guy like Yastrzemski, they can't lose.

John Stritch, West Windsor Township, employee Meadow Lakes Nursing Care Center: Minnesota Twins. I think they've got the best hitting in guys like Killebrew and I feel they have the better all-around team.

Michael Floyd, 64 Harris Road, sophomore, Rutgers University: The Red Sox because they've got Carl Yastrzemski, the most valuable player in the league; George Scott at first base, Petrocelli at short, Dick Williams as manager — there's a lot of good reasons right there. They're leading the American League in hitting and their pitching staff is coming through, too, especially Lomberg.

Jack Cinkay, Trenton, special agent for Adlerman and Clink, 9 Spring Street: Boston. I think they've got the momentum now; they're getting the clutch hits. But watch Minnesota.

John Lindsay, Yardville electrician: The White Sox. They're a better team. I think Stanky is a good manager myself. He plays the old brand of baseball: win them anyway you can. The White Sox have come a long way this year; I hope they pull through.

Kathleen Byrlawski, Washington D.C., student at Vassar: Minnesota. I don't think Chicago will win because it's too unpredictable. The Red Sox, maybe. Their players are always getting hurt, but it definitely won't be the White Sox. They're too inconsistent. I have faith in the Twins because when they were the Senators they were always in the cellar. As soon as they got out of Washington, they won the pennant.

Cornell Fazio, Burlington, ironworker: Boston. They've got a good pitching staff and a nice young infield — and they've got the fans behind them.

Paul Walstad, 286 Shady Brook Lane, student, Duke University: I think the Red Sox will win. This Yastrzemski is probably one of the best ball players I've seen in the American League. Any team that gets picked for ninth place I'd like to see wind up in first. The Twins will probably come in second — they've got a good solid team, but I'd like to see the Red Sox take it.

Tom Johnson, 33 Park Place, electrician: Boston, because of guys like Yastrzemski, Foy, Scott and Conigliaro, who will come back and help them. They've got the drive now and the schedule favors them. They have the three best hitters in the league; they've got to be leading the league in hitting. Before, pitching has hurt them, but this year the pitching has come through. Yastrzemski is a shoo-in for MVP.

Tom Brophy, Palmer Square manager of Brophy's Shoes: I'll stick with the Twins. I picked them in the beginning of the season; I can't back out now. They still have the hitting and the pitching — better balance all-around. It'll probably come down to the last week of the season, with one team needing one or two big games and when you have players like Dean Chance, Harmon Killebrew and Bob Allison — these are the guys who can make the big play.

Paul Mazzarella, Magnolia Lane, PHS student: Boston, I think they're pitching is pretty good and they've got good hitters. They're really working as a team now.

Robert Cooper, 63 Knoll Drive, PHS student: Boston. They have the easiest schedule — 17 home games — and they are playing well without Conigliaro. When he gets back, they'll be even better. Right now they have a streak and they go back to Boston. They've been winning on the road which is unusual for them. Yastrzemski's been in a slump but he's got to come out of it any day now.

Joe Luhman, Rocky Hill, driver for Allied Van Lines: The Boston Red Sox. They're a young team — the average age is only 24, at least it was before they got Howard. Everything seems right: more power, better pitching, everything seems to be falling into place for them without any injuries. I believe they are going to take it for the next four or five years. All the other teams are getting too old; too old too fast, like the Yankees.

Edward G. Przemieniecky, Trenton, telephone installer: Boston, but it will be close. I'll win. Boston has a better hitting team than Minnesota, and the Twins' pitching has been only so-so lately. I'd like to see Boston win it; they're closer to home. You always have to
